That's A Wrap!

We wrapped up our current Song of Solomon series on Monday night by talking about God's purpose for purity. At the end, students were asked to share testimonies of how this series has helped them. A freshman soccer player stood up and said how this series confirmed the decision that he and his girlfriend had made to stay sexually pure through their relationship. A baseball player stood up and shared how he had messed up in the past but how he has decided that his relationships will now be centered around Christ. Afterward, we challenged them to sign a card with a purity statement committing to do relationships God's way from now on.

Ministry Impact

Justin and Bethany Pigott We spoke at Florence High School last month about how to have godly relationships. Last week, we spoke again but spoke to them separately this time. Justin spoke about what honor looks like and I spoke to the ladies about how to guard our hearts through the power of the Holy Spirit (pictured above).

Board members Andy and Elna Wilson volunteered for our apartment ministry program on February 26. They made some new friends!

Unwavering Leadership

Every 3 years, FCA hosts a national staff "pep rally" called REALTIME to encourage staff to persevere in ministry and to report "wins" in the ministry. 850 staff gathered March 1-4 in Kansas City for this event. We were so encouraged by this gathering. One specific thing we wanted to mention to supporters is how impressed we are with the executive leadership in FCA. The leadership took time to review how we are to share the Gospel. One of the executive leaders, Dan Britton, said, "There might be areas of ministry that are messy, but one area that we will not be messy with is the Gospel. We must get this right." These leaders are expanding FCA nationally and internationally. There have been exponential numbers of people affected by FCA and we thrilled to be a part of the overall impact.
